Letter from Father Mark - Friday 11th September, 2020

Dear Parishioners,

It is very good to see so many people at church, both returners and visitors alike. We seem to be increasing in numbers with every week that passes! You are all very welcome! We are monitoring very closely how many people are coming to services, and if there is any danger that we get close to capacity for our churches in this social distancing period, we will take steps – but we're not there yet. It is, of course, a wonderful problem to have!

At the back of each church there is a receptacle, which you can use for your envelopes for Revd Rose Hill. Rose trained here and served this church community with distinction for three years, and since her Zoom licensing has served in Pontyclun. The receptacles will be available this week and next week, and shortly after that we hope to make a presentation, before anything else (such as a local lockdown in her neck of the woods!) can get in the way! Details to follow!

Our Gospel account this morning talks about repaying and forgiving debt. We have once again benefitted from the hard work of people who were convicted of a crime, but now want to return something to society. Recently, the Probation service has kindly organised working parties to help out with work in our churchyards. St Augustine's has benefitted greatly from their recent hard work, and a large part of the enormous site has been mown – and we are very thankful for that. As custodians of the graves of so many hundreds of people who no longer have living relatives who remember them, nor live in the area, the task is enormous.

The mowing is routinely undertaken, according to a carefully-worked out rotational plan by local ecologists, by an ever-growing group of church-goers and non-church-goers, building community by working together. Together this large group, at St Augustine's, along with all those who care for the grounds at St Dochdwy's, Leckwith and Lavernock, and Holy Nativity (whose walls have just had a good 'haircut' –thank you!), are acting as nothing short of Stewards of God's Creation, which we are reminded of, once again in today's Gospel account. Thanks to all involved for their hard work, once again.

Enjoy the week ahead, and stay safe!

Fr Mark
